

WELCOME TO PSOTC

PSOTC's principal objective is to ensure students receive the highest quality education and training to be prepared for multinational missions and operations. We understand that thorough preparation is essential for achieving interoperability and success in diverse operational environments.

PSOTC is committed to excellence in every aspect of our training programs. From our modern facilities to our team of experienced instructors and subject matter experts, we strive to provide you with the best possible learning experience. Your participation and dedication are crucial to achieving our collective objectives.

Our emphasis on integration among all stakeholders in international operations reflects the evolving nature of modern conflicts. Success in establishing sustainable peace requires a comprehensive approach that includes military, police, and civilian personnel. Through comprehensive individual training and education, we prepare you to navigate complex operational challenges effectively.

Since its inception in 2005, PSOTC has been a pivotal institution in crisis management training in Bosnia and Herzegovina, establishing a distinguished legacy of excellence and dedication. To date, the Centre has trained over 10,000 professionals from over 60 nations, preparing them for missions under the auspices of the United Nations, NATO, or the European Union, either within Bosnia and Herzegovina or through our global mobile training team deployments. Our commitment to maintaining the highest standards of education and training remains resolute.

As a NATO accredited Partnership Training and Education Centre (PTEC), PSOTC plays a crucial role in supporting NATO's training objectives and fostering a community of knowledge exchange among PTECs globally. The challenges of today's conflicts continue to evolve, demanding constant adaptation and improvement in our approach. As we face new threats and complexities, our commitment to advancing the quality of our education and training remains steadfast. At PSOTC, we recognize the critical importance of collaboration and shared learning in preparing for complex international missions. Our courses and other training solutions are designed not only to impart essential skills but also to cultivate a deeper understanding of crisis management principles and practices.

We are delighted to welcome you to PSOTC. Your presence enriches our community of learners dedicated to advancing peace and security globally. We look forward to supporting your journey towards enhancing international missions and operations.

Welcome aboard!

PSOTC Commandant
